Project 10 – ArtThread Foundation Initiative
The Work of Art Program

Benefits for everyone:

- Classroom teachers
- Art teachers
- Counselors & behavioral specialists
- School media coordinators
- School administrators
- Students

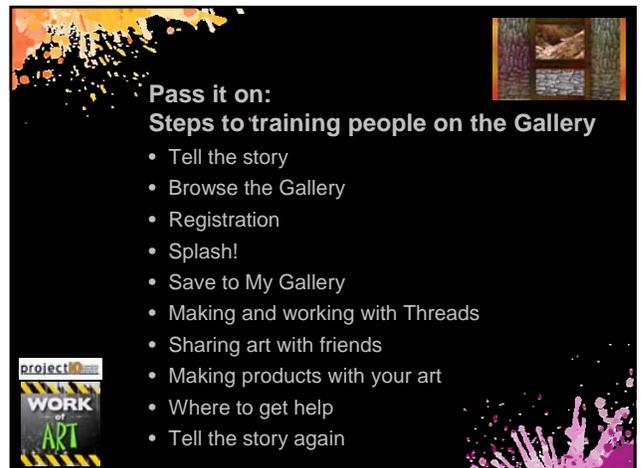

An innovative online technology and training program that serves transition-aged students with disabilities:

- creative expression
- social networking
- 21st century skill-building
- school-based enterprise
- self-determination

Think of the Gallery as:
an art to art conversation
an online graffiti wall
social networking with paintbrushes
a place to connect through creative expression

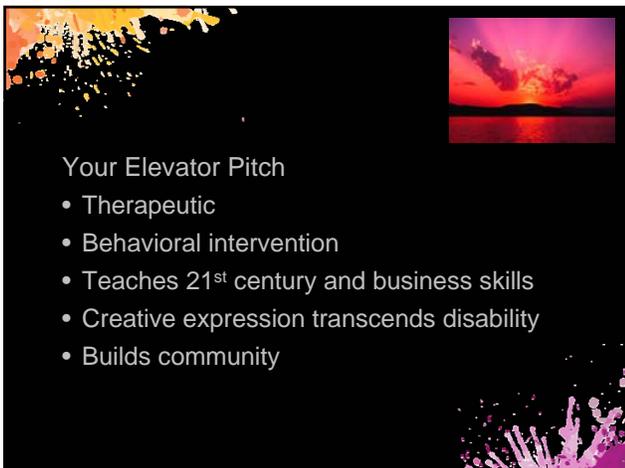

Your Elevator Pitch

- Students using creative expression to learn healthy ways to express themselves, transcend disability, and reach their own personal goals.
- The Work of Art Program combines peer support and connectivity, social networking, and creative expression into a school-based enterprise and self employment track.
- Centered on the ArtThread Interactive Gallery, the Project 10-Work of Art program offers a means for individual students to express themselves in a positive and healthy way, and to learn and practice skills for self-determination that lead to the attainment of their own personal goals.

Benefits for everyone:

- Classroom teachers:
A 21st century skills building activity and an online school-based enterprise that helps level the playing field for students with disabilities.
- Art teachers:
Innovative, game-like art-making software and an online gallery to show off class work, all fostering creative expression that transcends disability.
- Counselors & behavioral specialists:
A hands-on, art-based activity offering a positive therapeutic activity as a reward, and a tool to help counteract negative behavior.

Your Elevator Pitch

- Therapeutic
- Behavioral intervention
- Teaches 21st century and business skills
- Creative expression transcends disability
- Builds community

Benefits for everyone:

- School media coordinators:
Secure social networking for students that teaches technology and graphics skills while providing a safe and appropriate social media environment based on art rather than words.
- School administrators:
A new way to build community and connections for students, staff, and parents, and a way to bring the whole community together to support their students.
- Students:
Empowerment and a sense of accomplishment as they learn new technology and micro-enterprise skills while sharing their creative expression with their peer community.

When you train you should emphasize:

- Making the Gallery part of students' daily activities
- Encourage students to tap into their creativity
- Benefits to everyone involved
- Sharing art as a safe means of communication
- Opportunities to build confidence
- Going viral with the program!
